DURATION

12 days

About 12 days since she becomes restless and unusually talkative, from this time she has been getting gradually more troublesome. He did not leave her situation until a week since, which she had held for 2 years and had an excellent character. She has now special delusions fancying a man with a lance is constantly at the foot of her bed. She told her father she was likely to have considerable property. At night she is restless and rather disposed to be destructive to clothing. She has also an inclination to wander away from home without any reason for so doing. He voices antipathy to her father & mother to whom hitherto shown strong affection.

ON ADMISSION

Mind Quick, and able to answer questions correctly

Body well nourished and apparently free from any organic disease.

November 15th

She is rather depressed and timid, but she slept very well last night, has so far taken all her food and has been no trouble. He actually has a delusion that she was people at night when she was at home, but says that now they do not trouble her.

17th She continues quiet and manageable, conforms willingly to the routine and has already assisted in cleaning & washing up things in the ward. She sleeps well and does not give expression to any delusions. She seems at times morbid, thoughtful but beyond this nothing unnatural in her manner or conversation can be detected.

25th She is rather inclined to be melancholy but she is in-quietious, sleeps well and is no trouble whatever, she occupies herself willingly in various ways she takes her food well and enjoys good health.

January 6th
1882.

She is quick and reserved but she has for the last few days been employed in the kitchen where she works well, talks rationally and does not give expression to any delusions - Sleeps well at night & takes all her food.

36th She continues to work industriously in the kitchen. She is quiet, but talks sensibly and does not appear to have any delusions. Her conduct is good. She sleeps well at night and talks rationally.

February 2nd

She seems as far as can be ascertained to be now in her natural state so it is proposed that she shall at the next Committee meeting be discharged as having Recovered.
