

ADMITTED
8re. 16th
1882

Name Honor Chatton Age 57
 Occupation Widow Residence Bristol
 Religion Church of England. Education Read only
 Height 5 ft 1 inch Weight 6 st. 6 lbs
 Married or Single Widow No. of Children 9

HISTORY.

CAUSATION
Predisposing
Exciting Hereditary

DURATION
3 weeks

About 3 weeks ago without any assignable cause she became very low spirited and fancied that she was going to die but not wishing to leave the "trappings & vanities" of this wicked world she prayed that her life might be longer spared and instead of directing her supplications to the right source she prayed to the Devil who she fancied had come in disguise over her. She now is aware of having misdirected her own prayers and fancies in consequence that she has sold herself to Satan and that she is now in his power. She has a delusion that she must not eat as she has been so wicked and for some days has only taken a very small quantity of nourishment. She avers that she has temptations to do away with herself and tries to be alone but she has not had an opportunity of improving herself - having been closely watched. She is restless at night - Mind depressed and quick. She reproaches herself for having been wicked. feels
 Body She is very infirm and body ill-nourished. Respiration is harsh & she has Chronic Bronchitis. Heart sounds normal

17th
1882

She is very depressed and miserable, a condition excited by her various delusions for she fancies that she is very wicked having misdirected her prayers and therefore is in consequence no longer able for her. She is rather obstinate about taking her food but eats by being persuaded to do so. She slept fairly well last night, is clumsy in her habits but not disposed to dress without assistance - Continues depressed and miserable she does not sleep at all well so last night 4 of nephria was prescribed for her at bedtime and with beneficial effect. She replies to any question that is put to her very unwillingly and will only take food when fed with a spoon.
 18th Was nauseated to day after nephria so it will be discontinued for the present. Very depressed and still refuses her food. She slept last night.
 19th She has had no nephria for the last four nights and now sleeps much better than she did. She also takes her food with greater willingness and is not quite so depressed. She does not display herself in any way and never speaks except when spoken to.
 20th She is more cheerful than she was and as she comes to be frightened by the noise in her old has been transferred to her. She now takes her food with less persuasion and sleeps fairly well at night. She also now dresses herself & takes more interest in what is going on around her.
 21st Continues depressed and still reproaches herself for imaginary past wickedness but she takes her food much more willingly than she did and slowly gains strength - but she is very reticent still and does not display herself in any way. She dresses herself & her habits are clean.
 22nd Improves very slowly for she continues depressed although she has not the delusions that she had. She now takes her meals well and displays herself at needlework but

ON ADMISSION

- she does not yet employ herself with any exertion
- February 10th She is still depressed and has delusions that that she has been very wicked &c? but she sleep much better than she did, and employs herself to some extent at needlework. She takes all her meals, and is no particular trouble
- March 7th She is more cheerful than she was and does not now give expression to delusions so fully as she did. she is still however rather dependent and uncommunicative but she occupies herself at needlework, and sleeps well
- April 20th She has now apparently quite lost her delusions and she is cheerful and industrious. She sleep well and takes all her meals. Her condition will be tested during the next weeks and if at the end of that time she has no relapse
she will be discharged as "recovered"
- May 24th Mental condition continues quite satisfactory
so she will be discharged on Tuesday
- 29th She was to-day discharged as "Recovered"
Weight 74 lbs.

Thomas J. Compton